Citrus Groups Recruit Forces to Fight Strike

SHERIFF SAYS COMMUNISTS ACTIVE

Reports Agitators Urge All Orange Pickers To Quit Work

Mobilization of the entire Orange county citrus industry to fight the threat of labor strikes and demonstrations assertedly fired by paid agitators from other districts loomed today.

Sheriff Logan Jackson this morning provided armed escorts for field workers, after reports of the activities of car-loads of "strong-arm men" from the Los Angeles fields had reached his office.

These agitators, he said, have been threatening beatings to field workers if they returned to their jobs today, and urging strike action to secure concessions asked for last March 18 in demands presented by workers throughout the county.

Accuses Communists

Charging that the trouble is due to communistic agitation, the sheriff said it had virtually the same proportions as that which flared a short time ago in the Dominguez fields, in Los Angeles county. The same agitators are concerned in the Orange county situation, he said.

Meetings of ranchers and packing firms have been called for this afternoon by Sheriff Jackson and District Attorney W. F. Menton to outline a plan of attack on the situation. Southern county packers and fruit men were to meet at 2 o'clock at the Orange County Fruit exchange in Orange. Those in the northern portion of the county were to meet later in Fullerton. Both meetings were to be addressed by Sheriff Jackson and Mr. Menton.

Evidently, said the sheriff, the (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Stand Collapses, 42 Die; King Assists

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 8. (AP)—While 50,000 people knelt in prayer, a grandstand at a Boy Scout review collapsed today, killing 42 persons by unofficial count. An official statement said only three persons were killed with more than 100 hurt; police said 30 were dead and several hundred injured; the latest unofficial figure showed at least 150 hurt in addition to those killed.

King Carol, Crown Prince Mihai, and the Dowager Queen Marie saw the catastrophe. The grandstand fell as 30,000

We Shouldn't Print This 'Cause It Isn't News

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Great Britain defaulted today on its semi-annual war debt installment to the United States.

In doing so it advised this government that inability to pay was due to reasons "no less valid now" than when it first suspended all payments in 1934 on the ground of prevailing economic conditions and the fact German reparations payments had been halted.

Formal notice that Britain did not intend to pay the $668,474,071 installment falling due on June 15 was contained in a note transmitted to Secretary Hull by Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador. Eleven other nations are generally expected to follow a similar course.

MURDER CASE TO JURY

Last Minute Plea Made By Husband Who Killed Wife

Eight women and four men held the fate of Natividad Valenzuela in their hands this afternoon. The state has demanded that the 24-year-old Mexican die on the gallows at San Quentin for the murder of his 17-year-old wife, Jovita, last May 2 near Santa Ana.

Defense Attorney Harry Westover today pleaded for his life, labeled the crime one of sudden passion, and asked that the superior court jury find him guilty of second degree murder, or that it recommend a sentence of life imprisonment for the crime.

Used Marijuana

At no time did the defense deny the guilt of the youth. It did deny premeditation and malice.

Valenzuela created a mild sensation this morning when he took the witness stand to deny any recollection of testimony he previously had given, and to testify that he had been smoking marijuana on the night of the killing, and could not remember what he did.

Subjected to a vigorous cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis, the defendant either mumbled a denial of all questions, or said that he "couldn't remember."

Sums Up Case

Shortly after noon District Attorney W. F. Menton summed up the state's case with a final demand that the jury find Valenzuela guilty of first degree murder with no recommendation.

Members of the jury who will find as the degree of Valenzuela's guilt are: Emily Schneider, Georgia B. Swan, Charles E. Lewis, Frances Nelson, Amelia C. Peck, Ethel Spaulding, Cora Dugdale, Evelyn King, Bertha Young, J. W. Gill, Ernest J. Graff and Robert H. Birkhead.

Jobyna Howland, Actress, Is Dead

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 8. (AP)—Miss Jobyna Howland, 55, veteran character actress of the stage and screen, was found dead on the kitchen floor of her home. Police said death apparently was caused by heart disease. She was born in Indianapolis, Ind., and was educated in Denver, Colo.

spectators and 20,000 Boy Scouts knelt in prayer in a religious service preceding the projected review, which was called off.

The shrieks of the injured drowned out the voices of the priests intoning the service through loud speakers.

The stand which crashed was almost directly opposite the royal reviewing stand. King Carol and Prince Mihai ran to the scene with President Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia and Prince Nicholas, brother of Carol. They plunged in person into the rescue work.

ONE DIES; 18 INJURED IN TRAFFIC

L. A. Man Fatally Hurt As Car Rolls For 306 Feet

Killed in county traffic accidents so far this year..... 26
Killed in county traffic accidents same time last year..... 24

Death and injury rode Orange county highways over the week end, killing one man and injuring at least 18 more persons, according to police, sheriff's, and California highway patrol reports.

The county's twenty-sixth traffic fatality for 1936 was James Patrick Horgan, 31, 729 South Union street, Los Angeles, who died en route to the county hospital late Saturday after his car overturned near the Bayshore bridge on Highway 101.

Rolls 306 Feet

Bart Bartelson, 42, Los Angeles, a passenger in the car, was in the county hospital today recovering from a skull fracture, lacerated scalp, and shock. He was only partially conscious.

The accident, according to a report by California Highway Patrolman Ray Bradfield, occurred when the Horgan car, traveling at high speed, turned out in an effort to avoid hitting a car driven by Mrs. R. Fontes, Compton, and rolled over. Skid marks showed the auto slid 100 y. before overturning, then rolled 306 feet before coming to a stop alongside the road.

Back Broken

An inquest has been called for 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Dixon funeral home, Costa Mesa, according to Deputy Coroner J. B. Casteix.

In another accident Saturday, Ramon Hernandez, 23, route 3, Santa Ana, suffered a broken vertebra and cuts about the head about the time his car collided with a truck one mile east of Oceanview. He was recovering in St. Joseph's hospital today, where his condition was reported as favorable.

The Truck Driver, Philip de Bruyn, Long Beach, was suffering from head injuries.

Pedestrian Hit

Leo Nyquist, Seattle, received a broken left arm, lacerated scalp, and several fractured ribs last night when he was struck by a car assertedly driven by Ted Comp, 811 East First street, at Tenth and Main streets, according to a report at the police station. Mr. Comp told police officers he did not see the pedestrian until too late to stop his car. The victim was taken to the county hospital for treatment.

F.D.R. Leaving on 'Talk Tour' Tonight

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt went back to his desk today to study and act on bills which have finished their legislative course and work on speeches he will make during a 4000-mile tour, starting tonight.

The chief executive returned to the White House yesterday from Nashville, Tenn., where he and other capital officials attended funeral services for the late Speaker Joseph W. Byrns.

Late tonight he will leave on the long tour which will take him to Little Rock, Ark., June 10; Dallas, Tex., June 12; and Vincennes, Ind., June 14, for scheduled addresses.

Progressives Slap Merriam

BAKERSFIELD, June 8. (AP)—Recall of Gov. Frank P. Merriam was among the resolutions adopted by delegates from 55 California assembly districts who launched plans here for the revival of the Progressive party.

The governor was linked with the current liquor scandal in the resolution, when he was charged with aiding Mrs. Helen M. Werner of Los Angeles in mixing politics with liquor control.

Delegates to the meeting named Paul Burns, Los Angeles attorney, as permanent chairman.

BORAH WON'T MAKE 'DEAL' ON NOMINEE

Says Party's Welfare Foremost; Demands Strong Platform

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah told his own Idaho delegation today he would not "go into any combination or movement to stop Landon" or any other strong candidate.

"Much has been said here about my joining in a movement to stop the leading candidate," Borah said, "but I do not feel that I want to go into any combination or movement to attempt to control the convention through any series of deals.

"Nothing to Gain"

"I defer to the members of the delegation as to what they desire to do, but we have nothing to gain in doing so.

"They are willing for me to become the spearhead of a (stop) drive, but they say nothing about what will happen to me after the opposition has been destroyed."

Borah talked with the Idaho delegation shortly after his arrival from Washington.

"Party Is Foremost"

"The welfare of the party is foremost," Borah continued. "It must be dynamited from its present lethargy. It must again be made to serve the cause of its party."

"My first interest is in platform. I have seen several of them."

"If the convention adopts a timid expression on such vital questions as face us today, the cause is lost. The Republican party must sound a clarion call to the people through a dynamic platform."

"Fighting For Life"

"We want a platform that means the Republican party will take up the fight of the people."

In concluding Borah warned: "The Republican party is fighting for its life. If we fail to nominate a candidate who has a distinct, courageous, aggressive, intelligent stand upon these questions, the election will be over when we leave this city."

Strikers Win, But Miners Walk Out

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Coal miners in northern France numbering 150,000 called a general strike today a few hours after 100,000 other workers had won a complete victory in the "folded arms" refusal to work.

Workers in Paris building trades also began a walkout to enforce the five-point agreement which ended the 14-day strike after Premier Leon Blum's "New Deal" government interceded for organized labor.

Fishing Research Boat Bill Vetoed

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—A senate bill providing for the construction of a vessel for research work on Pacific ocean fisheries was vetoed by President Roosevelt today with a statement it called for "a wholly unnecessary expense." The measure would have authorized the commerce department to contract for the vessel at a cost of $500,000.

WPA Workers Shine Up Republican Convention Hall

In order that the Republicans could gather in a spic and span meeting place when they open their convention tomorrow in Cleveland, the government (administered by Democrats) approved the use of nearly $300,000 federal funds to refurbish the convention hall. Here this WPA sign as workmen put the final coat of white paint on the marquee. (Associated Press Photo)

DEATH TAKES S. A. PAIR

A vacation trip to the East ended tragically yesterday for six Santa Ana residents when two of them were killed instantly in a head-on collision near Pecos, Tex.

D. J. Sawyer, 53, laborer, and Ruth Williams, 3, Mr. Sawyer's granddaughter; and Eleanor How, 19, Chattanooga, Tenn., were killed as the two cars met, and 10 others were injured.

Other passengers in the Santa Ana car were C. W. Williams, 1045 West Second street, owner of the Broadway Taxi service here, who was driving, and Mrs. Williams, father and mother of Ruth; Mrs. Sawyer, and Bobby Williams, 10.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. How and five other persons including Miss How were riding in the other car, state highway patrolmen reported.

The party left here Friday night on a trip to visit relatives in Oklahoma, planning to purchase a new car in Detroit and return to Santa Ana July 5. The Sawyers lived at 1120 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

Roy Sawyer, son of Mr. Sawyer, left this morning for Texas to make funeral arrangements.

Death Claims Sultan of Sulu

MANILA, June 8. (AP)—Word was received here today of the death of the Sultan of Sulu, titular head of Mohammedans of the Sulu archipelago, Sunday night on the island of Jolo.

The powerful sultan, Jamulu Kiram, widely known in the United States, abdicated his political and civil rights in 1915. James R. Fugate, American governor of Mindanao, recommended that the sultan's successor, when named by Moro chieftains, be recognized by the government.

CALIFORNIANS GET THERE

Delegates Still Quiet About Who Will Get Their 44 Votes

By LOYD B. DILBECK

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP)—Besieged immediately by representatives of various candidates, the enigmatic California delegation to the Republican national convention arrived here at noon today.

The delegates were still "mum" about how California's 44 votes will be cast in the presidential nominee balloting.

Leaders of the delegation planned to confer this afternoon with National Committeeman Mark Regua of Santa Barbara and other delegates already here. Both Regua and Delegation Chairman Chester Rowell are close personal friends of former President Hoover.

How the California votes will be cast may not be publicly disclosed for two days or more.

The delegation will hold its first formal caucus at 8 o'clock tonight, probably taking a presidential poll.

HEARST WILL BE 'BOSS,' ICES SAYS

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—A New Dealer's charge, and a quick denial, that William Randolph Hearst would be the "absentee boss" of the Republican national convention, echoed today across the fast-moving political scene.

As the last of the convention delegates converged upon Cleveland, Secretary Ickes declared that the Republicans' standard bearer had been picked in advance by "substantially the same interests" that supported Warren G. Harding for the presidential nomination.

An authorized statement of the publisher's position quickly dispelled Ickes' statements as "rather absurd," and said "the remarks about Mr. Hearst are particularly rapid."

Ickes said the views of William Allen White, Gifford Pinchot, and Frank Lowden were disregarded, and that "as the discoverer and principal backer of Governor Landon, there is reason to believe that Publisher Hearst will do the final editing of the platform draft."

After going almost crazy trying to pick out the three best Zioncheck letters from the stack that came in, the Zioncheck contest editor finally went into an epistolomaniac trance, threw empty bottles (milk) out of the window, went wading in the bathtub, put on a burst of speed that burned out the bearings of a portable typewriter, and had a fight with his landlady (the wife).

As a result, first prize in The Journal's Zioncheck letter writing contest goes to David Wellerbach, who most seriously in elegant English suggested that Zioncheck be placed in a side show.

Mr. Wellerbach wins $3 for his letter, which follows:

13 'Legion' Men Held for Trial

DETROIT, June 8. (AP)—Thirteen men charged with the Black Legion kidnaping and "execution" of Charles A. Poole were ordered held for trial today on both counts by Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy.

The 13 are Dayton Dean, Black Legion executioner who voluntarily testified last week that he had emptied two revolvers into the body of the young PWA worker "because I was supposed to do it," Harvey Davis, Black Legion officer from whom Dean said he took his orders; Ervin D. Lee, Urban Lipps, Paul R. Edwards, Edgar Baldwin, Herschel Gill, Lowell Rushing, Thomas R. Craig, John R. Bannerman, John S. Vincent, Virgil Morrow, and Albert Stevens.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP)—The unsung artists who invent soda fountain concoctions have produced a new one—the "GOP Sundae." The ingredients: Ground nuts, orange syrup, pineapple juice and ice cream.

Henry L. Mencken's definition of a delegate to a national convention:

"A delegate is an obscure man. He's lucky if his home town paper prints his name once. He comes up here and votes as he's told by the man who owns him."

"He's sleepy, bored and full of bad booze. When the keynote speech starts all sensible people leave the hall, but a candidate has to sit there and listen to it. And he's paying all his own expenses!"

"Tieless" Joe Tolbert, of South Carolina, who hasn't worn a tie since he was big enough to make up his own mind, sauntered through the carpeted hotels.

"Poor man," sighed a grey-haired woman, "he's lost his tie and doesn't seem to know it."

Cecil B. DeMille, director of many a million dollar movie, admits that he's just another extra in the Republican party's super-spectacle.

Delegate from Hollywood, DeMille is in Cleveland for his first visit since he played "Hamlet" with E. H. Sothern in 1903.

"I'm no politician, but it's a wonderful experience," he said.

The only living former vice-president of the United States, Charles G. Dawes, is attending the convention as a delegate from Illinois.

Prize Letters on Zioncheck Picked

To the Editor: For several weeks past, the front page of the daily press has featured as news dispatches the ridiculous antics of Congressman Marion A. Zioncheck. Besides attracting wide attention, the escapades of Mr. Zioncheck have culminated in his commitment for mental observation.

Although he can scarcely be considered insane, Zioncheck is a positive menace to society and certainly does not merit the high position of responsibility conferred upon him.

It would seem that he is an overly egocentric individual, having a mania for publicity. Apparently lacking the intelligence or the ability to render a distinguished service to his country, he seeks

SESSIONS TO OPEN AT 11 TOMORROW

Landon Backers Claim Victory; Struggles Begin on Platform

By EDWARD J. DUFFY

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP)—Republicans massed for their 21st convention in greater numbers hourly today to find the Landon leaders saying their campaign was "rolling nicely along," but Senator Borah insisted that "nothing has been settled."

More and more it seemed the nominating vote might be measured not so much by the button-holding of footloose delegates, but by data on economic fundamentals in the platform committee and perhaps on the convention floor itself.

Fess Says "Landon In"

Simoon Fess of Ohio, former senator and party chairman, looked the situation over and commented to friends, "Landon is in." John D. M. Hamilton, managing for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, reported to 200 newspapermen in conference "we've certainly had no losses in Cleveland and have had many acquisitions."

He said he knew nothing about the platform or Landon's views on it.

"My business has been delegates for the presidential nomination," he explained.

Borah Wants to Talk

A arriving from Washington, Borah went into a huddle with members of his Idaho delegation. He threw out a feeler for an invitation from the convention to address it, but got no immediate encouragement.

A procession of the arrivals passed through the Landon reception room at the Hollenden hotel for hours. None of the other candidates had such elaborate quarters or promotion paraphernalia.

Between breaths, the Sunflower states exchanged "I told you so glances" over the news that 36 of New York's 90 delegates had declared for Landon. Some county leaders predicted Landon would get at least 70 of the state's votes on the first ballot, but delegation leaders were silent pending a caucus tonight.

Vandenbergh's View

Conspicuous among the dissenters from any hazy Landon drive was Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. The senator, without mentioning Landon or any other candidate by name, said yesterday:

"Circuses have bandwagons. This is a crusade or it's a fall-out. If this convention is true to its responsibilities it will and out precisely where every man stands before it gives anybody a vote for anything."

Talk of Vandenberg as a possible rival for the presidential nomination, in event of deadlock, persisted, noticeably among some seemingly interested in furthering deadlock. Nor did his refusal, "with finality," to consider the vice presidential nomination terminate consideration of him for that post.

Opens 11 A. M. Tuesday

All sides continued to express confidence. Many of the rank and file were admittedly bewildered as they awaited the opening gavel rap at 11 a. m. (8 a. m. Santa Ana time) tomorrow in the spacious, beflagged auditorium.

The program offered little insight about what to expect. There were rumors, which could not be verified but were accepted as gospel by sources active against Landon, that Col. Frank Knox of Illinois would show up here tomorrow and add his bit to the cause.

Again, the presence of Herbert (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Brick Dust

Here and There With
The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

TODAY we're going traveling. And like it or not, you're going to get an insight on the European situation from someone who knows his Europe.

We'd better start off by thanking Carl Fisher, inotyper for The Journal, and his friend, Sam Bottler, colored San Clemente athlete, motion picture star and traveler, who's now living in Paris as secretary to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sinnott, who also call San Clemente their home town.

The other day we told Carl that nothing had been heard from Sam for some time, and he'd better stir him up a little. So Carl wrote, and the reply, we think, broke all existing air mail records. Sam's letter was mailed in Paris on Friday, May 29, and reached Los Angeles last Friday, June 5. One week by fast boat and airmail from Paris to Los Angeles. That's speed!

Our Paris correspondent, as you'll see, knows whereof he speaks regarding European politics. We'll print portions of his letter where he predicts things that happened before the letter reached Carl a week later. He calls his shots!

For instance, this: "Italy will not and cannot enjoy the fruits of her murderous conquest (of Abyssinia) because of her economic conditions. Guerrilla warfare will soon break out there, with untold violence."

Now pick up almost any newspaper of a few days ago—You'll read where the guerrilla warfare had broken out, and that lots of Italians were slaughtered.

But, to go on with the letter. Speaking of the present condition in Europe, and fears of smaller nations following Italy's conquest, Sam says that smaller countries are making preparations to resist similar invasions. "Great Britain has nothing to fear," he adds. "Outside of her own natural and strong defense, she has the friendship and support of all the smaller nations, which regard England as their true and trusted friend, and their champion."

"A European war is a certainty. Possibly it will break within the year. Its repercussions will naturally be felt in the United States."

We'll wait awhile to see how much he knows about that, but here's another place where Carl's correspondent shows that he knows what he's talking about. Remember, this was written about two weeks ago!

"Monsieur Leon Blum, the new and Communist premier of France, is diligently attempting to form his cabinet of a foreigner from His platform is good. But will he be able to execute it?"

All right. Now hunt up Saturday's paper. The headline reads "Paris riots over new premier." Another says "Blum walks out under attack."

Methinks Mr. Sam Bottler knows what he's talking about!

We don't know anything about what happens at League of Nations meetings. That's what Sam says. "The average reporter prints just what he's paid to print or is told to print." But, he adds, "I am no reporter, or at least a paid one, so unconsciously I get news that otherwise I wouldn't be able to obtain." We agree with him!

Carl's friend doesn't think much of Premier Mussolini's actions in invading Ethiopia, and, again, he paints a dark picture for Europe as a whole, with war clouds hanging low. "Nevertheless," he adds, "I believe the time will come when European nations will recognize that the sacrifices required by war are out of all proportions to any advantages that may be gained from a war."

Isn't that a real letter? When "The Prince of the Desert," Alexander Korda production in which the San Clemente resident acts as the prince, comes to this country, we're going to take a look at it. Incidentally, as Sam and the Sinnotts were about to return to this country, the county man was asked to remain to take a part in another movie. That's why they're still in Paris. Good luck to 'em!

Speaking of traveling, we talked to Johnny Tuffree, Placentia globe trotter, the other day. John just returned from lots of out-of-the-way places.

He was almost weeping when we saw him. Several hundred feet of colored motion picture film, most of it taken in India, had spoiled. John was quite vexed.

He admitted, too, that he almost spent a time in jail in Iraq, where natives didn't think much of his ideas of "shooting" scenery with his camera. He had to talk plenty to keep out of some dark native dungeons.

We're glad John could talk as fast as he probably did to keep out of trouble. Otherwise we wouldn't be able to see those pictures of his—which we're hoping to view soon.

Mrs. Raymond Beem, Mrs. Opal Buck and Mrs. J. H. Thompson will have charge of the program. Members of the board at the meeting were E. Ray Moore, Raymond Beem, George Harding, Harry Lettold to print. But, he adds, "I am no reporter, or at least a paid one, so unconsciously I get news that otherwise I wouldn't be able to obtain." We agree with him!

Carl's friend doesn't think much of Premier Mussolini's actions in invading Ethiopia, and, again, he paints a dark picture for Europe as a whole, with war clouds hanging low. "Nevertheless," he adds, "I believe the time will come when European nations will recognize that the sacrifices required by war are out of all proportions to any advantages that may be gained from a war."

Isn't that a real letter? When "The Prince of the Desert," Alexander Korda production in which the San Clemente resident acts as the prince, comes to this country, we're going to take a look at it. Incidentally, as Sam and the Sinnotts were about to return to this country, the county man was asked to remain to take a part in another movie. That's why they're still in Paris. Good luck to 'em!

Speaking of traveling, we talked to Johnny Tuffree, Placentia globe trotter, the other day. John just returned from lots of out-of-the-way places.

He was almost weeping when we saw him. Several hundred feet of colored motion picture film, most of it taken in India, had spoiled. John was quite vexed.

He admitted, too, that he almost spent a time in jail in Iraq, where natives didn't think much of his ideas of "shooting" scenery with his camera. He had to talk plenty to keep out of some dark native dungeons.

We're glad John could talk as fast as he probably did to keep out of trouble. Otherwise we wouldn't be able to see those pictures of his—which we're hoping to view soon.

BEACH ANNUAL OFF PRESS

LAGUNA BEACH.—Comparing favorably in make-up and general appearance with similar publications brought out by institutions of larger enrollment and more resources, is "The Nautilus" 1936 year book of the Laguna Beach High school, just off the press.

Illustrated with clever sketches and designs, and carrying a large number of individual and group pictures, the pages of the publication give an interesting account of various activities of the school which was established two years ago.

Under the heading "Our Dignified Seniors," are shown individual photographs of 10 youngsters, then between 6 and 7 years of age, who in 1924 entered the first grade of the Laguna Beach Grammar school. Next Friday they will receive their diplomas as high school graduates. They are Helen Parry, Robert Thompson, Alice Johnson, Roy Seaman, Bradford Collins, Beverly Wilbur, Maxine Hayes, Lucille Shaw, Orrin Robbins and June Wilson.

RUSH PLANS FOR PARKING AREA AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA.—Plans to make a safety aisle on the old Southern Pacific right-of-way for 1200 feet along Newport-Santa Ana boulevard in the heart of the business district have been mapped out and approved by S. V. Cortelyou, state highway engineer and Mr. Scott, estimate and material man for the highway commission, it has been announced here.

The two officials investigated the proposed project with Mr. Cheesman, local maintenance man, and other civic leaders when they visited this community last week.

The safety aisle would prevent backing of cars onto the busy thoroughfares, and under the plan, a roadway will be constructed down the center of the old right-of-way and diagonally, parking will be provided between that road and the main highway.

The officials estimate that the cost of providing the safety zone will amount to about $1200. That the state highway commission will approve the plan and pay for the safety zone was the opinion of Mr. Cortelyou. But the state objects to foot the bill for the center road and the Costa Mesa chamber of commerce will ask the county to make the oil road and pay the cost of about $700.

The Rev. J. Alvin Shirley, former pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church and now pastor of St. Arthanasius church, Los Angeles, preached the sermon. The invocation was given by the Rev. William R. Holder, pastor of the First Christian church. The boys' and girls' glee clubs sang, with solo parts by Nettie Willoughby and Alice.

The Rev. Arthur T. Hobson read the scripture, Wesley Marquart sang, and the Rev. J. S. Orem, pastor of the El Modena Friends church, pronounced the benediction.

GRADUATING YOUTH TACKLES THE WORLD

(Newport News)
That time of year is almost here, now, when great legions of youth will march forth from high schools and colleges, diplomas in hand, with high hopes and an indomitable determination to conquer the world.

Naturally they will be somewhat disillusioned, and disciplined in the school of hard knocks. That is, they will be. But, how much better their opportunities are this year! More jobs are open to them than at any other time since 1931.

Problems galore, of course, as youth always has. Many of them will go into large business enterprises, there to start at the bottom. They will spend long hours in this "school," learning salesmanship, marketing, efficient business methods and procedure. Their incomes, while not huge at first, will be adequate, steady and certain.

Others, having a little saved, will choose a less certain path, setting up enterprises of their own. They should know beforehand that competition causes only 2 to 3 per cent of business failures, while inexperience and lack of capital causes 25 to 30 per cent.

So competition from large organizations will not block their paths, if they have the experience and wisdom to be efficient, and enough money to support even a very small business properly.

These problems of livelihood first. But what a multitude more there are! Problems of marriage, of a home, of future relationships—all to be tackled with youth's bustling energy and enthusiasm. What man is not tempted to want to turn back time and relive these years of his life?

Rev. Nason Gives Tustin Address

TUSTIN.—Speaking on the topic "You," the Rev. Howard Nason of the Advent Christian church delivered the baccalaureate address to graduating seniors in the high school auditorium last night.

The speaker carried out the comparison of young people patterning their lives to the making of a piece of tapestry, fashioning the design with the elements of faith, devotion, and sacrifice as the chief material.

The program also included organ selections by members of the graduating class and the music instructor, Miss Mary McVey, and by the glee clubs, directed by Miss Madge Stephens.

LOOK ABOUT YOUR OWN NEIGHBORHOOD

(Coastline Pispach)
This is the time of year when the national magazines reap a rich harvest from their advertisements. In glowing words and well-posed pictures they urge the American public to take a long ride to a particular vacation-land.

Naturally their readers get such a hankering to go places and see things that there is no living with them until they go.

We have heard several persons bitten by that bug. They ought to take a look about their own neighborhood before setting forth for distant scenes. Right here for instance—we have the sea at our front door, the mountains at the back door. Overhead the sky of blue; days of delightful coolness; nights for wonderful sleep.

This is the land that America eyes with envy. Why seek greener pastures than these in which we have cast our lot? Here is real life-life as it should be. If Utopia exists, it must be along this bit of beautiful coastline stretch.

Do a good turn for your friends back east. Don't let their minds get into a muddle over a vacation spot. Invite them to come here for a month, and let them share a bit of the joy we have every day.

"Floating Peril"

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

CHAPTER 27
Whatever the sound denoted it came, alas, from the far distance. A lot of rumbling first, as though of thunder then a crash, an opening of the black skies over westward as though to let out a flood of summer lightning. Then silence—darkness and silence more profound than ever.

The commander of the gunboat heard it, sprang from his bunk and hurried up on deck also to gaze around at nothing. Perissol heard it and leaned over from his balcony, straining his eyes, and striving to penetrate the darkness of the near horizon. Tanya, who had been dealing a hand in Juan Casino, heard it a great deal more distinctly and almost dropped the cards from her jeweled fingers. The little company of eight seated at the table stared at one another without any inclination to move. Tanya, whose bank now amounted to a good many mille and who had just had banco called against her, was the first to recover herself. Perhaps because she understood. She showed no sign of the relief which had set her wicked little heart dancing with joy.

"Whatever has happened," she exclaimed, "it is not for our harm. Let us finish the hand."

She gave the card which had been demanded—a ten—and triumphantly, with her amazing finger nail, pointed to the six which she had already shown upon the table. The man who had gone away with a shrug of the shoulders, opened his pocket book and counted out the money. Tanya leaned back in her chair humming a little tune. Poor Chicotin! His boasts, then had not been idle ones.

"Une banco de cuatorze mille," the croupier announced.

"This time no one paid any attention. The little company had recovered from their stupor and everyone except Tanya had rushed to the doors.

"La main passe," Tanya declared, stretching out her hand and clutching her winnings. Everything had happened according to plan.

The Baron was a few minutes late in the morning for his petit déjeuner, which he made a rule of sharing with his host in a pleasant corner of the deck. He found Merimillon with the Ecclairer gripped in his hand. He had evidently just finished reading something of interest.

"Eh bien, mon ami?" de Brett exclaimed inquiringly.

Merimillon laid down his paper. "It is the old story," he confided. "God and men make plans and women destroy them. I knew that vain little fool of a Chicotin was playing Don Juan. I ought to have confined him to the ship until his work was done."

"What then has happened?" the Baron demanded.

"One has to guess. We, I think, can fill in the blanks better than any one. A block of flats newly built in Juan-les-Pins, only one of which was occupied, has been blown to pieces—wrecked completely and absolutely—soon after three o'clock this morning. The owner of the flat was playing chemin-de-fer at the Casino. He knew about it and that she came from Marseilles and that she had a lover—apparently wealthy—who was with her earlier in the evening. According to this paper the two died at the Provincial Hotel and were seen soon after midnight to enter the flat—the man carrying a small despatch case. The girl, however, took her accustomed place at her favorite chemin-de-fer table at the Casino shortly after two. At a quarter past three came the explosion."

"My God! Did we not hear it?" the Baron muttered.

"The adjectives used by these French journalists in trying to describe its effect," Merimillon continued, stirring his coffee, "suggest that Chicotin told us the truth. The flat and its contents have gone up into thin air. There is not even an indication as to whether any human being was in the building! Not an article of furniture or clothing of any description remains. It stood, fortunately, upon an empty space, but every window in the neighborhood buildings forty yards away was wrecked. A small saloon car standing at the entrance was scattered in morsels of metal and upholstery right across the road. Enfin, mon cher Baron, we have lost our dear Chicotin."

The Baron plucked up his spirits.

"Under the circumstances, I think," he remarked cheerfully, as he buttered himself a piece of toast, "it is perhaps the best thing that could have happened. Alive, whether successful or unsuccessful, he would have been a terrible nuisance."

Merimillon sighed as he glanced to where the Bird of Paradise was swaying gracefully at her mooring. "It is now my turn," de Brett went on, "to disclose some news. In a few weeks' time the Bird of Paradise will have changed hands. Merimillon's eyebrows were

Reboin Likes Teaching

Trojans vs. Owens

Saint Golfers

Alvin Theodore Reboin possesses a deep love for sports, but coaching football and basketball has been his present occupation—may be just a pleasant memory five years hence.

Young Al, just out of U. S. C., is resigning as A. J. (Bill) Cook's mentorial aide down at Santa Ana Junior college to accept a position as assistant football and head swimming coach at Huntington Beach High school, effective in September.

His new duties, like those with the Dons, will be of an athletic nature, although at Huntington Beach, it is understood, Reboin will serve also as an instructor in citizenship and typewriting. They say Al likes biology and physical culture, and that before many years have passed he'll be teaching these subjects, along with commercial ones, instead of showing a budding halfback how to punt or a basketball aspirant how to dribble. Special study in the Trojan halls of learning this summer will prepare Reboin for his new venture.

Blond Blanchard Beatty, who held a part-time position with the Dons before migrating to Oceanside Junior college, probably will fill the vacancy here.

Coach Cook wants one of those all-business types... an efficient, quite sort of coach whose work here proved highly satisfactory in 1934-35.

Jesse Owens is a one-man sensation capable of first places in the century, furlong, broad jump and low hurdles, but Ohio State university will not be able to furnish the colored riot with sufficient aid to overhaul the U. S. C. Trojans in their track meet at Columbus, O., Saturday, 'tis said.

Twenty-one strong, Dean Cromwell's Los Angeles collegians leave on the "Golden State Limited" at 8:15 tonight for the midwest. Following the Ohio State encounter, the Trojans will return to Chicago to defend their N. C. A. A. championships June 19 and 20.

Brief workouts will be held in Douglas, Ariz., tomorrow and in Pratt, Kan., Wednesday.

W. W. (Bill) Foote's Santa Ana Saints are bent on winning that Southern California C. I. F. golfing crown. They made a determined bid for the honor here Saturday by outclassing Muir-Tech of Pasadena, 434 to 446, in the first of a home-and-home series in the semi-finals. The match at Pasadena has been postponed until completion of the C. I. F. "individual" tourney at Montebello, in which Don Kennedy and Jack Robinson of Santa Ana are enrolled.

Kennedy shot a 74 and Robinson a 76 against Muir-Tech. Reg Quintana carded an 85, and Frank Trujillo trailed with a 98. Jim Ramirez with a 101. Pasadena's scorers were Wetzel, 84; Green, 82; McLaughlin, 87; Howley, 98, and Caver, 85.

Winners of the Santa Ana-Pasadena feud goes up against Beverly Hills High for the Southland crown.

Lewis, Montanez Set for Bout in Brooklyn Tonight

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—A double-barreled program is available for New York boxing fans tonight with John Henry Lewis, the light heavyweight champion from Arizona, and Pedro Montanez, the flashy Puerto Rican who is Tony Canzone's main hope for a profitable defense of his lightweight title this summer, as the main attractions.

Lewis, a busy battler, takes on John Anderson of Sweden in a 10-round match in Brooklyn, while Montanez meets Frankie Kulak, rugged San Franciscan, in a 10-rounder in the upper Manhattan. For the negro titleholder it is the second overweight fight here within two weeks. He stopped Bob Godwin of Dayton Beach, Fla., in one round May 29.

Spotlight of Sports World Now Focused on Italians

By EDDIE BRIETZ Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Was that Tony Manero hot, or was he just torrid? ... for a time it looked like they'd have to call for one of those camera eye pictures, so popular at the race tracks, to decide the open ... It's an Italian year all right ... First Mus-solini, then Crocetti, Lazzari and Di Maggio and now Manero ... too bad the wassil' Garibaldi boys can't get going ... Primo Camera is about the only Roman who isn't hitting on all six ... but as Primo wired Di Luce after the Max Baer fight, "you can't win championships on one leg" ... Primo is in Columbus hospital here with a paralyzed left prop.

And while you're giving three lousy ones for Manero, you might add a couple for Harry Cooper ... Now you know why they call him the greatest runner-up in golf ... More times than you can count he's been in the ante room to fame only to have some one beat him

No longer regarded as a "weak sister," Liston (Memph) Hill's Orange club will send Al Bushman, the ex-Anaheim pride, to the mound in an attempt to upset Santa Ana's second-place Stars in National league nightball in the Orange city park at 8:15 tonight. The game has been moved ahead to avoid conflict with Orange High school graduation exercises tomorrow night, when Olive travels to Huntington Beach and Anaheim to Westminster for their tenth games.

Coates vs. Bushman Jimmy Coates, Santa Ana's sterling gunner who has been on the shelf with a sore throat, was reported in improved condition today and Manager George Lackey planned to start him, with the inconsistent George Stevens in reserve. Lackey was reported searching for a new pitcher in Los Angeles today.

Since Tommy Lacy, Santa Ana's utility player, joined the club, Orange has been hitting the ball at a lively clip. The Cubs always have fielded well. They extended Huntington Beach's 1935 champions, 2-1, at Orange Tuesday night, indicating vast improvement.

Chet Congdon's San Juan Capistrano Missions, struggling to get out of the cellar, will wage an uphill fight against Vigil Kiger's Lions in the third game at Brea.

POST HOLE BECOMES WELL MEADE, Kan. (AP)—Ben Borchers started to dig a post hole and wound up with an artesian well.

Starting with a post hole digger, Borchers found going was so easy he continued down to 36 feet, where he encountered artesian water. The water, Borchers explained as he started casing the well, will come in handy on his farm which had been classed as submarginal land.

Other weekend sports: Joe Di Maggio went hitless for the first time in 19 games ... Brevity muffed another chance in the $29,800 Belmont Stakes and must be written off as the most overrated three-year-old of 1936 ... Bill Bonthron, running his first race of the year, could do no better than fourth in the New York A. C. games three-quarter mile event. Jimmy Braddock wasn't kidding when he said he had started training for Louis or Schmeling in September. Manager Joe Gould is in Canada today looking over training sites

LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP)—Two diving daughters of California, Dorothy Poynton Hill and Marjorie Gestring, gave promise today of keeping a fair share of Olympic honors in the Golden Gate. Mrs. Hill, world's high platform champion in 1932, showed near-perfect form in winning the lofty event at the S. P. A. A. U. meet Sunday in Los Angeles.

COOK'S AIDE SEEKS H. B. POSITION

Reboin to Confer With Board at Huntington Beach Tonight

Relative to joining the Orange County Prep league school's physical education department as a full-time instructor in September, Alvin Reboin, coaching assistant to A. J. (Bill) Cook at Santa Ana Junior college, will meet with Principal M. G. Jones and members of the Huntington Beach High school board of education tonight.

Blond Blanchard Beatty of Oceanside, it was learned today, might apply for the position with the Dons when—and if—Mr. Reboin resigns here this summer.

The Santa Ana board of education probably will not take immediate action because Mr. Reboin will not be eligible for the Huntington Beach position until he acquires general secondary credentials at U. S. C., and it is likely he will not resign until mid-summer.

Principal Jones told The Journal today that conferences with other members of the Huntington Beach board of education have resulted in the unanimous approval of Mr. Reboin for the new position, in which he would (1) take complete charge of the Huntington Beach plunger, (2) assist with the coaching of football, and (3) instruct classes in citizenship and typewriting.

Erroneous reports Saturday had Reboin "taking command of the Oilers' football squad." Harry (Cap) Sheue, head of the physical education department, will continue as head coach of the Huntington Beach varsity. Principal Jones explained.

Norma Lundak's sterling work in left field (she came up with a beautiful shoe-string stop) and Pat Collins' all-around play at second base featured Santa Ana's attack. Three Westerners in Pre-Olympic Spotlight

Here are three of the western track stars who will be prominent contenders for spots on the Olympic Games team. Left to right: Gordon "Slinger" Dunn, former Stanford discus star whose throw this year of better than 171 feet marks him as the probable No. 1 man in that event; Lee Roy Kirkpatrick, the San Mateo, Calif., junior college athlete, who runs close to world's record time in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Norman Bright, the former Bellingham, Wash., youth now running for the San Francisco Olympic club, who is rated as America's likeliest prospect in the distances. During the 10 years he was physical director of the "Y" at Fresno, highly prominent men played the game. ## VAUGHAN IS HITTING AS IN 1935

Pirate Shortstop Gains 38 Points in 21 Days To Destroy Slump

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

Take it from Arky Vaughan, the National league batting crown won't be given up without a fight. The heavy-hitter of the Pittsburgh Pirates is making that much clear by his stick work these days.

Slow to start, Vaughan of Fullerton, Calif., has come along fast at the plate in the last four weeks, he has pulled up 38 percentage points in less than 21 days, and is now batting just a shade under the .300 mark.

Of course, that's still far off the .385 mark he posted last year to win the title. But consider his steady, uninterrupted rise since mid-May, while most of the leaders have been falling off sharply, now that the heat is on. Consider, also, that he has been hitting better than .385 since before June 1.

Hits 19th Straight Vaughan hit in his 19th straight game yesterday, getting three singles in five times up to set the pace as the Bucs clubbed the Phillies 6-2.

The victory left the Pirates just one percentage point off third place in the National league standings, since the Chicago Cubs nosed out the Phillies 4-5 behind Curt Davis' tight pitching to maintain their advantage.

The Cardinals continued to lead the pack, downing the second place New York Giants 6-3, as Dizzy Dean, the top big league pitcher, chalked up his 11th win, taking the mound with only 48 hours' rest.

The New York Yankees, meantime, pulled their American league lead out of the fire and stretched it to 2½ games by outlasting the Cleveland Indians 5-4 in a 16-inning struggle, while the second place Boston Red Sox were losing their jinx hold on the Chicago White Sox and were getting snowed under a 16-hit attack, 13-5, and their five-game winning streak.

The Detroit Tigers, hard-hit by injuries, but still fighting for their world's championship, replaced the Indians in third place by staving off the Senators' closing rally through the able relief pitching of Roxie Lawson in the ninth, to win, 10-8.

The Boston Bees threw off the assault of the Cincinnati Reds on the National league's fifth place by coming through with an 8-3 triumph, while the St. Louis Browns downed the Athletics 9-5, to move within a game of sending Connie Mack's crew into the American league cellar.

LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP)—Twenty-one athletes of University of Southern California's track and field team leave here tonight for their dual meet with Ohio State at Columbus next Saturday, and to defend their championship at the N. C. A. A. meet at Chicago June 19-20.

The squad will take brief workouts Tuesday at Douglas, Ariz., and Wednesday at Pratt, Kas. A hard drill will be held at Chicago's Stagg field Thursday morning, according to present plans, before the Trojans, Pacific Coast conference champions, enroute for Columbus.

A triple main event will feature Thursday night's amateur boxing card at the Orange County Athletic club with the signing of George Hughes, recent winner over Jack Wofford, Southern California heavyweight champion, to meet Lupe Le Mon of Fullerton; Baby Face Shaw to tangle with Cyclone Jure; and Kayo Vargas, Placentia Mexican middleweight, to clash with Kid Pancho of Los Angeles. Five other four-rounders are scheduled.

Illness Forces Ray Steele To Cancel Bout Here; Kondelis on Card

Senior Don Juan Olaguival Pico, cousin of Paulino Uzcudun, the Basque heavyweight fighter, and reputedly one of the greatest heavyweight wrestlers to invade this country in several years, makes his second appearance at the Orange County Athletic club tonight against clever Casey Columbo in the best two-out-of-three falls, catch-as-catch-can feature of a four-bout program.

Last week Senior Pico made his bow before local mat addicts and made an instant hit by subduing Dixie Bill Sledge, southern titleholder, in a match that had the fans wondering just how good the giant Mexican really could be.

Toys With Rival Senior Juan virtually toyed with the man who beat such fellows as George Kondelis, Nick Lutze, Sandor Szabo and others, and when he really got down to cases flopped Sledge like it was child's play.

Tonight the Senior tackles a clever, scientific grappler in Columbo in the best two-out-of-three falls, catch-as-catch-can feature of a four-bout program.

Kondelis vs. Zinn Taken seriously ill yesterday, Ray Steele had to cancel several matches in Southern California this week, among them his semi-final bout with Mays McLain. Giant Thor Johnson will replace Steele against the blond Oklahoma Indian.

George Kondelis, Greek star, meets Wildman Zinn in the special event and popular Bill Hansen of Salt Lake City opens the show against Stanley Pinto, one of the foremost heavyweights on the coast at present.

According to Promoter Sampson, the man who proves the biggest hit of the night will be matched with Man Mountain Dean next week, provided the bearded giant agrees to tentative terms.

MAXIE BAER TO FIGHT JULY 2

DALLAS, Tex., June 8. (AP)—Dickie Griffin, fight promoter, said today he had signed Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion, for his first comeback appearance in a six round bout here July 2.

Griffin said Baer's opponent had not yet been selected but admitted Tom Beaupre, Dallas youngster, was being considered.

Baer will fight with six ounce gloves and Griffin said it would not be an exhibition. Buddy Baer, younger brother of the ex-champion, will appear on the same card.

Beaupre will fight Bob Tow of Alexandria, Va., here on June 18. Tow is the only fighter to flatten the Dallas sensation.

Pitchers Salvesson And Hebert Shine In Coast League

By the Associated Press

Where rain didn't stall the Sunday show in the Pacific Coast league, honors went to pitchers whose bats connected at the right time.

The San Francisco Seals struggled 12 innings to win 5-2 from the San Francisco Missions, while Los Angeles' Angels split a doubleheader with the San Diego Padres, 4-2, 2-7. Rain shut off games in Portland and Seattle.

Jack Salvesson broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth at San Diego and won his second game of the series by tripling and scoring on Don Hurst's single.

Just as heroic was the performance of Wally Hebert, whose left-handed hurling won both of the Padres' games during the week. He hit a homer with one on to lead a four-run fourth inning rally in the nightcap.

At San Francisco little Ken Sheehan was aided by Eddie Joost's error, the only miscue of the game. Sheehan led off in the twelfth with a double and scored on Joost's error when two were out.

PEACE URGED BY SCIENCE CHURCH

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—An appeal to Christian Scientists to work for the demonstration of world peace, the reading of reports by church officers on the various activities of the movement throughout the world and sustained demand for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, marked the annual meeting today of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Election of Mrs. Elizabeth Cadwell Tomlinson of Boston as president of the Mother Church was announced. She succeeds Dr. Frank C. Colby. Mrs. Tomlinson was born in Byron, Wis. After graduating from St. Helen's Hall, a well-known Episcopal private school, she received a remarkable healing in Christian Science which brought her into the practice and this religion. She was at one time a delegate appointed by the Governor of Oregon to a conference of women's organizations in Paris. In 1914 she was in London, England, at the outbreak of the World War and did service under Mrs. Herbert Hoover in relief activities.

Introducing the theme of world peace, William P. McKenzie, for the past year chairman of the board of directors, told the audience, "There is a rising demand in the hearts of men for freedom and justice. Can it be met by fair dealing? This requires self-government, does it not? Instead of battling with others to set them right, let a man become right himself and influence his neighbor by his good example."

"Our Leader in her preface to 'Miscellaneous Writings' spoke of 'the spiritual glow and grandeur of a consecrated life wherein dwelleth peace, sacred and sincere in trial or in triumph.' Following her inspiring example, let us dignify this coming year by an endeavor to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." (Ephesians 4:3.)

In her address, Mrs. Tomlinson spoke in somewhat the same vein as Mr. McKenzie, declaring that "the developments of this hour in world history are not disheartening to the thinker in Christian Science. These developments corroborate and fulfill our leader's prophecy (Miscellany 1:128) War will end when nations are ripe for progress. As humanity ripens in courage, in purity of purpose, in increasing virtue, in holiness, this ripening will hasten the day prophesied by our leader when 'the Christ-like spirit will cleanse the earth of human gore' (Miscellany 265:9). It is the life of men, not the death of men, that determines the peace of nations."

Edward L. Ripley, re-elected church treasurer, said "there is no debt of any kind on the new publishing house and other property owned by The Mother Church or its affiliated trusteeships."

His report included information as well on the relief work done by the church. Relief was dispensed among Christian Scientists and non-Christian Scientists in 14 states. In the course of this work assistance was given to or through a number of ministers of other denominations who have expressed much appreciation for the assistance and the spirit in which it was administered.

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn as chairman of the board of lectureship for the past year cited cases of instantaneous healings which had taken place as a result of public lectures on Christian Science.

She disclosed that members of the board of lectureship carried Christian Science messages to the four corners of the globe, delivering 3111 lectures with an attendance of approximately three million persons.

The fruitage of Christian Science in healing all manner of disease and disorder was attested in selected testimonials read by Mrs. Jennie H. Jarvis of Southern California.

Speaking for the Publishing society, Fred M. Lamson, trustee, notoriety by less worthy but more bizarre means.

The indictment of Representative Zioncheck, after all, is an indictment of a society which encourages and tolerates such actions. As for Mr. Zioncheck, he should be removed from his post and placed in a circus side-show, where he belongs.

DAVID WELLERBACH, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 317, Santa Ana.

Second and third prizes of $1 each go to John Oldshuffe, Box 285, Balboa, and to Vernon J. Andrew, 206 North Ross street, Santa Ana. Their letters follow:

Has Individuality

Contest Editor: "Tis an old saying: 'If you live with the nuts long enough you will get that way yourself.'—Zioncheck has been in Washington too long. His wading in the public fountain—well, he was just practicing up to go wading in the public treasury. Tossing bottles out of windows—he'd been watching the supreme court handle new shuffle legislation. Moth balls to the President—extreme gesture of partiality—they should have gone to the whole deck used in the New Deal. As to empty beer bottles—they are symbolic of the heads of the whole administration, also emblematic of what our pocketbooks will look like if we have another four years of 'teeth and a mere abundant life.' Posing in the nude—indicating lack of balance—i. e., the treasury. Screaming and yelling—typical political idiosyncrasy—means absolutely nothing—but don't listen to it very long or you'll be nuts too! Daisies to Washington—perhaps they'll look before they vote next time. As to Zioncheck—orchids and the cross of valor—at least he has individuality!"

JOHN OLDSHUFFLE, Box 285, Balboa.

Would Cash In

Journal Zioncheck contest: If I owned Zioncheck I would cash in said: "We say with grateful hearts that it has been a good year."

"Our business condition is satisfactory and there has been a healthy growth in advertising income, and in the subscription lists of all the periodicals."

Checks will be mailed to the winners.

Santa Ana Woman Hurt at Pomona

Mrs. Lida Crickler, 1530 West Third street, was seriously injured in an automobile accident about 10 p. m. last Saturday at Pomona. She was taken to the Pomona Valley hospital in an unconscious condition.

Mrs. Crickler was turning into a service station when her car was hit by a truck. Three passengers with her were but slightly bruised. Mrs. Crickler resides alone at her Santa Ana home. Her husband passed away about a year ago. Friends who visited her at the hospital Sunday reported her still unconscious and her condition critical.

BURKE TO REPORT ON TRIP EAST

J. Frank Burke will give a public address at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the east lobby of the Y. M. C. A. He will speak on business conditions, governmental affairs and social trends observed during a recent trip east.

Mr. Burke attended general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and visited in Washington, D. C., where he conferred with national leaders.

SCIENCE TOPIC IS 'GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR'

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth." These words of the Psalmist on him for the following reasons:

1. For his better service to the republic in the capitalization of his major talents.

2. Because the people of this country want entertainment and can afford to pay for it.

3. Because Zioncheck is by nature a gifted showman and now has national advertising free.

4. The U. S. movie corporation heads have the cash and want to spend it for headlines in forceful, entertaining pictures.

5. I would take $250,000 and they could have Zioncheck.

ist were the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" on Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Among the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon were these appeals to God by the Psalmist: "Thou art good, and doest good; teach me thy statutes. . . . Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy word." Another citation presented this verse from III John: "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

A policy game similar to those enriching racketeers in the United States has been legalized in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, after promoters promised to give a percentage of the profits to the war invalids' fund. Drawings will be based on football results in England.

PRAYERS FOR RAIN HEARD; IT FALLS

Showers in Southeast; Heavy Precipitation In North Dakota

ATLANTA, June 8. (AP)—Scattered sections of several drought-hit southern states gave thanks today for showers which followed prayers for rain in hundreds of churches. Rain fell in patches from Louisiana to Virginia. Although the showers yesterday actually did little damage to crops, prospective $100,000,000 drought damage to crops, forecasts for continued cloudy weather and showers left farmers hopeful that fields still needing water might be drenched by downpours today.

PRAYERS ANSWERED IN NORTH DAKOTA

BISMARCK, N. D., June 8. (AP)—Forecasts of fresh showers—in answer to the general prayer for rain offered Sunday in North Dakota churches—heartened tillers of the state's drought-stricken fields today. The supplications were fulfilled in part yesterday as long-awaited precipitation fell in the more parched sections. Rains ranged up to nearly an inch in the northwest section of the state. Observers said that, although crops were damaged, they would revive if additional showers fell soon.

FLOODS SWEEPING YUKON TERRITORY

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 8. (AP)—Floods and high temperatures beset British Columbia and the Yukon Territory today. The Catholic church, on an elevation, was a refuge for those residents who had not taken to boats. The Mayo General hospital operated only on the upper floor.

Refugees sweltered in temperatures which ranged between 80 and 90 degrees over the Yukon Territory yesterday.

G. O. P. MEET 'COVERED' BY HUGE STAFF

Associated Press Has Pick of Reporters At Cleveland

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—The Associated Press this year has assigned the largest staff assembled for any one event to cover the major political conventions for Associated Press member papers—in words and pictures.

The reporter staff will be under the direction of Byron Price, inaugurated since the last convention in Washington for the last nine years and a veteran of political conventions, while Associated Press Wirephoto will transmit pictures by wire directly from the convention halls through the new portable transmitter. More than 100 men and women from the Associated Press staff, including general and regional news men, feature writers, news picture men and mat men, and technical workers, will converge on the convention cities to cover every possible angle of the big shows.

Regional Staff, Too

Dovetailing with the general staff which will report national developments, the AP's large regional staff from Washington inaugurated since the last convention will be brought in to give detailed news service from every state as well as the insular possessions. There specialists will keep in close touch with their state's delegates, reporting their activities and other affairs of interest minutely. In the interests of a still more complete regional service, men from various bureaus over the nation will travel to and from the conventions with the delegates, dispatching the news immediately as it develops en route and joining forces with the Washington regional men on arrival to give the most exclusive presentation of any convention in history.

Women to Write

General leads, that is, the all-inclusive coverage that tell a whole story in themselves will be written by E. J. Duffy and J. F. Chester, seasoned veterans of the Washington bureau. The women's angle of the meetings will be completely handled by Sigrid Arne and Edna Furness of the Washington bureau. The conventions' lineup will draw heavily on the Washington staff, leaving enough men behind, however, to give ample protection on possible news developments in the capital.

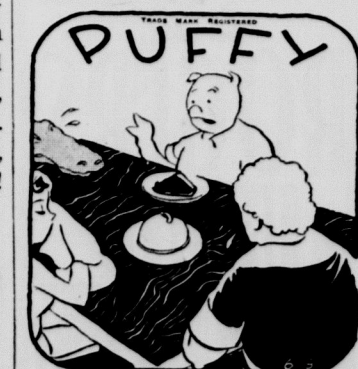

Other Washington men on the general staff include Harold Oliver, head of the AP staff in the U. S. senate; Nathan Robertson, Douglas Cornell, head of the AP staff in the house; William S. Ardery, W. L. Beale, Jr., R. J. Crowley, James W. Donahoe, supreme court reporter; Eddy Gilmore, Jerry Greene, Preston L. Grover, columnist; Lloyd Lehrbas, state department reporter; Joseph L. Miller, W. B. Ragsdale, Sunday feature editor; Kirke L. Simpson, columnist; and Richard L. Turner, financial expert.

Going to 1376 Papers

The news will be spread over the greatest network of wire ever used on a convention, linking the convention platforms directly to the 1376 Associated Press newspapers offices over the nation. Teletypes, that is, automatic electric typewriters, will click off the dispatches at 60 words a minute. Altogether, the news will be relayed from five different points in each city—the convention platform, the convention headquarters where AP field headquarters will be set up, the day and night offices of the AP, and a special AP workroom for reporters and traffic men in a hotel.

First Building in Orange was Tract Office Used by Captain Glassell

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. Today's article tells about the first building in the city of Orange.—Editor.)

The first building in Orange was a little office erected by Captain Glassell, agent for the tract being sold off to settlers when the town was known as Richland. The building stood on the southwest corner of Chapman and the Plaza square.

In the Pleasants history of Orange county it is recalled that there were two seedling orange trees in front of the office and that they attracted much interest. This was before orange groves were planted commercially in Orange county.

In the middle seventies the building was occupied by Mil-

TWAY PUT IN STATE SRA OFFICE

Former Santa Anan Now Assistant Director Of Operations

William J. Tway, former Santa Anan, has stepped up again. Mr. Tway, administrator of the State Relief administration in San Diego county for the past year, has been appointed assistant state director of operations for the SRA. He was on his way to San Francisco today to take over his new post.

Before going to San Diego, about a year ago, Mr. Tway had been head of the works division of the SRA in Orange county. Before the SRA was inaugurated, he was in charge of the Civil Works administration program in Orange county. This was a work relief program.

At the time the State Emergency Relief administration was launched to replace the CWA, Mr. Tway was a prominent candidate for the post of administrator. L. A. Hogue of Brea was another candidate. The county relief committee could not agree on selection of an administrator from this county. Terrence Halloran of Santa Barbara county was named to the position.

Shifting of Mr. Tway to the state position followed the merger between the SRA and county welfare organizations in San Diego county.

Mr. Halloran has predicted that steps toward a similar union in Orange county will be taken soon.

MONEY STILL AVAILABLE LOCALLY

State Leader Predicts End of Program on Next Monday

Despite fears of state Works Progress Administration leaders that the relief program in California will collapse by June 15, County Manager Dan Mulherron today announced that WPA in Orange county will proceed with "business as usual," at least for the time being.

"All we know here about the lack of funds," Mr. Mulherron said, "is what we read in the papers. As far as any official notice of a shortage is concerned, we haven't had any."

No Official Notice

"We seem to have money on hand for our projects, and until we get official word that men will be laid off, we will not worry about it. So far there has been no indication of a shortage here." Reports over the week-end from state officials were to the effect that unless additional funds are secured before Friday, the administration would be forced to begin laying off men.

R. C. Jacobson of San Francisco, field representative for WPA in 11 western states, is reported as saying a compromise financial agreement guaranteeing continuance of work at least until June 15 had been reached, except for signatures from Washington, D. C.

Reports WPA Collapse

"Outside of Los Angeles county," Mr. Jacobson was reported as stating, "all California WPA projects will end abruptly June 15 because of lack of funds." Of the 462,500 persons dependent on WPA for existence in California, 2305 are employed on Orange county projects, Mr. Mulherron said today. In addition to these, there are 336 earning federal checks in this county, on writers', artists', musicians' and NYA projects, he said. As of this morning there were 57 projects in operation in this county.

Dr. George A. Warner, Methodist pastor, and the Rev. W. J. Hatter, Episcopal Church of the Messiah, rector, officiating.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lutes, 812 South Garnsey street, wore a lovely white satin gown with high neckline, puffed long sleeves and quite a train. She wore a misty tulle veil and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white roses, gardenias and bouvardia.

Attending her as maid of honor was Miss Vera Beers, an apricot crepe gown accented with deep blue, and carrying a sheaf of delphinium.

The bridesmaids wore identically fashioned shirtdress frocks of summer lace and carried round French bouquets. They were Miss Katherine Chapman in yellow, Miss Helen Wieseman in pink, Miss Ruth Rymer, cousin of the bride, in green, and Miss Isabel McCormac, sister of the bridegroom, in turquoise.

An elaborate musical program opened with a baritone solo, "Where E'er You Walk" (Handel), Edwin Dunning, and continued with tenor solos, "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Love, I Have Won You" (Landon Ronald), Louis wedding music. He is a former Mary Ellen Truxaw, Edward Burns and Ruth Armstrong, instrumental trio, played Schubert's "Serenade." Miss Laura Joiner, contralto, sang "Traume" (Wagner).

"O Radiant Hour" (Stephenson) was sung by Lorene Croddy Graves, with lily and cello accompaniment. The Cecilian Singers, directed by Edwin Dunning, who substituted for the bridegroom, presented "The Call" (Andrews). Edward Burns played a cello solo, "Anne Laurie."

Miss Ruth Armstrong was organist for the program. Dr. Roland Diggle, organist and choir master at St. John's Episcopal church, Los Angeles, played the wedding music. He is a former organ instructor of the bridegroom.

During the reception which followed the wedding, the Cecilian Singers entertained in the church social hall, singing "Take Joy Home" and "Invocation to Life."

Two hundred guests were invited to the reception. The church proper was decorated in innumerable candles, some palms and floral baskets. Flowers and greenery decorated the social hall.

The bride wore a smart three-quarter length pink shirtdress suit with white accessories when she left with her husband on a week's wedding trip, planning to return to La Habra and live.

The new Mrs. McCormac attended the Santa Ana school and is a S. C. graduate. Her husband attended the Santa Ana schools and while in U. S. C. was president several times of the school of music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha. ## Mary Stoddard

Miserable Over "Rounder" Husband, Fastidious Wife Wonders if All Men Are Like Him

By MARY STODDARD

Any girl or woman who marries a man to reform him has our sympathy. Because if she knows even the "A B C's" of life, she knows that reformation comes within.

But our heart goes out to the good, well-meaning girl who marries a "rounder" upon his word that he prefers her to all of his old companions and that he is really sincere in wishing to turn his back on an unhappy, unprofitable past and start a new life with her.

Such a one writes me today and pours out her heart in the following letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: While young and very unenlightened about life, I met and married a man many years my senior. He had been considered "wild," but when courting me he was so kind and gracious I could not associate him with the things I knew to be true concerning him.

A few months after our marriage my husband began to swear terribly, and to tell dirty stories while we were in company. When alone, I asked him not to, and he became angry and told me I thought I was better than anyone else.

I cannot like those things. He is afraid that his relations and friends think he has picked a "wet blanket," and even though he has been considerate of me from that time on, he gives me the impression that I am a "wet blanket."

This has been a constant barrier to our happiness and is gradually separating us. I feel that he was a little in the wrong when he married me, knowing I did not care for that sort of a man. And why did he try to hide his true self until after we were married?

My husband says there is not a man who does not tell dirty stories and look upon women other than objects for sex discussion and playthings.

I find that his views on life are making me hate all men. If I find I am wrong, it may not be too late to make amends for my being an "embarrassment" to him, but I must be sure.

Can you please have your readers answer my letter, especially men, if they will be sincere and give me their true opinion?

DISILLUSIONED 21.

Grain Market

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

CHICAGO, June 8. (U. S. Pestimist) — Crop reports from spring wheat territory told much of rally price late last week, and almost overcome losses occasioned by light to good rains north west.

Fair support for the Chicago wheat market came about through resting of orders to purchase on declines. There was also some buying of wheat against sales of corn.

Send for pattern 5634 and do a few stitches when you've spare moments.

Constitutional Amendment

DON'T be surprised if the G. O. P. convention at Cleveland acts on a party plank for a constitutional amendment giving the states power to regulate wages and hours. The recent decision of the U. S. supreme court against the New York minimum wage law for women is said to have brought the boys to a sharp awakening. It's forecast in the convention city that Gov. Alf Landon's forces themselves will throw in the constitutional issue in an effort to beat the Democrats to the gun.

Politics are full of strange happenings. William Allen White, one of the nation's leading Republicans and a close friend of Landon, writes—

"The Supreme Court has honestly, even tragically, called our attention to the need of a power in government which now obviously is restricted. That need is the issue of the hour. The Republican convention must not side-step it. Our party did not dodge the Dred Scott decision. It must not blink at this. The Republican Party must not let the Democrats fire the first shot in the new battle for human freedom."

And there's more on the same subject, most strange to say, from none other than Rep. Hamilton Fish, Republican ultra-conservative, who states—

"I am frankly shocked by this unfortunate 5 to 4 decision that compels millions of loyal Americans to work for wages that will not secure for them the common necessities of life. I propose to offer a constitutional amendment to permit the states to set up a minimum wage scale for women and minors."

"The Supreme Court has presented the American people with a new Dred Scott decision condemning millions of Americans to economic slavery, and the issue will not down until it has been righted in the public interest."

The remarks of Mr. White and Representative Fish are all the more surprising when we consider that it was just one year ago when the "Save-the-Constitution" outcry from the Republican opposition was raised following President Roosevelt's remarks on the NRA decision. The world is changing fast.

Week-end highways these days almost make a driver long for the good old days of the depression.

Bold Adventure

OVER on the other side of the world—deep in the Himalayas—a group of daring men are braving death in an effort to do something that has never been done before. They are trying to climb Mt. Everest, highest peak in the world.

They will spend thousands of dollars, racking their bodies and torturing their minds—and very possibly fail to reach their goal as others have failed before.

Silly? A foolish waste of money, energy, perhaps life itself?

Well, perhaps it is. But it is thrilling, isn't it? And it does help to keep alive in the hearts of men the desire to do the "impossible," to conquer the "invincible." Perhaps an exploit such as this will spur some unknown genius to do also the "impossible" and find a cure for cancer or to assail the "invincible" and find the way to end poverty in the world.

May the spirit of Bold Adventure—whether it be in science, in medicine, in economics, in politics or in mountain-climbing—never die!

Republicans are looking for a campaign song. How about "Just One More Chance"?

Fire Prevention

"I THINK it will take another bad fire before our building laws are changed," testified Chief Building Inspector Earl Cope of San Francisco on May 19 at the inquest into the four deaths at the Shamrock club fire in the bay city.

There have been two more bad fires in San Francisco since Mr. Cope made that remark. One did $300,000 damage along the waterfront and another—yesterday—in a flimsy apartment house caused seven deaths and injuries to more than a score.

It seems that San Francisco officials should be willing now to embark upon a fire prevention program calling for the necessary new ordinances and lots of zeal in their enforcement. And it might be timely for other California cities in need of modern fire prevention laws to get busy before they suffer like San Francisco has.

Those millions Haile Selassie took with him to England were just a little something in case the rainy days didn't show up in time.

Advice to Graduates

"YOU ARE entering a battling world, full of confusion. You are going to have a difficult time making decisions and judging real values in life. I hope your experience in college has taught you to do your own thinking and to take a long-time view of events. Our very ideals of Democracy are in jeopardy. It devolves upon you and your generation to see to it that no backward step is taken. Regardless of present emergencies and the serious plight of youth, may you as citizens strive to preserve and perfect the fundamental ideals upon which our government is founded and be worthy of the confidence we have in you."—D. K. HAMMOND, in El Don.

In the old days the heroine would grab a lantern and a red flannel petticoat and save the limited from being wrecked, but since modern styles, the railroads depend more and more upon the semaphore system.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: My lady in a fearful paddy about my continued late rising. And I contrite. A wire from Betty Rogers inviting us to tarry awhile at the ranch and a bravely philosophical letter from Meredith Nicholson in Venezuela and a postcard from Bob and Madge Davis in Japan.

Out and on a cravat binge, one ash gray stripes of royal purple as beautiful as ever owned. So by Dean Cornwell's studio to see the murals he is painting for the Detroit Athletic club and to Katharine Brush's tea for the Charles Ing-hams.

Dinner en famille and Albert Keller sent a platter of favorite dessert, creme caramel, from the Ritz. Then to a cinema with Floyd Gibbons and to sit at a sidewalk table in East 52nd, but so many waiting his autograph we had little chance to gab. To bed trying to muddle through the tedium of "Sparkenbroke."

Ayn Rand, the Russian girl who came to America a few years ago bewildered by the furor of the revolution, continues to be one of the intellectual sensations. Her recent speech at Town Hall deploring the loss of individualism under Soviet rule was a high light of the season. Moreover she has proved that America is a land of opportunity. She arrived here with $50 and no knowledge of the language. She authored the successful Broadway play, "Night of January 16," has sold her first scenario to Hollywood and a book has been published, which Gouverneur Morris declares is the best first effort he ever read. Imagine her scoring such a success in Soviet Russia!

The Longchamps chain of restaurants continues to spread and takes the lead as the depresso's commercial miracle. There are almost a dozen now, brightly done in a dazle of modern angles. Their bars are the flashiest in town and their windows a geometrical display of perishable fruit. Each place subscribes to the no tipping ban by adding 10 per cent of the amount of the check. This has been tried time after time to no avail, but Longchamps made it click.

Personal nomination for the deftest character portrayals on the screen—Those of "Charlie Chan" by a Warner Oland.

Every season someone "discovers" after the fashion of Caruso, an off the beaten path restaurant where opera singers and music lovers may find the informality they enjoy. A current haunt is a place on Twelfth street called Asti's, where the proprietors, Adolph and Johnny, serve the meals and host full-throated at intervals into song. The orchestra is Blind Tom, a pianist, and when the vin ordinaire has been circulated musically inclined diners offer a repertoire of arias.

I have raked the town many times to tap a red inkery that spouted the casual bonhomie of Laloy's, back of the Metropolitan in East 38th street, 20 years ago. There one really did see Caruso, with neck-tucked napkin, leading in song with a spaghetti-wrapped fork as a baton. Mme. Laloy, in her Briton sweater, chirped greetings from the tiny cashier's cage and her mononed son Gaston bowed customers to the 80-cent table d'hôte—vin compris. One wandered from table to table, palavered, exchanged cards and often salvaged enduring friendships. At a corner table, too, sat Blanchette, in the manner of the French coquette, seductive in a sweeping Gainsborough and black velvet princess gown with train. Blanchette was the first woman I ever saw rouge her lips and Kohl her eyes in public.

Bagatelles: Fred Keating began his magic-monologue career as a reporter. When nobody is around W. C. Fields likes to squirt himself all up with perfume, the sissy Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt is "telling all" in a series of Cosmo-politan pieces. Doris Duke Cromwell is dieting to shuck off 50 pounds. Bide Dudley, who weighs around 100 pounds, often polishes off a minute steak for breakfast. Irene Franklin has sold a series of Hollywood articles to the Saturday Evening Post.

He slumped down at a bar table in a mumbling jibber. When he roused he saw a white-suited waiter passing, and with a start: "Whosh that in a sheer shucker suit?" He was told it was a waiter and bogged back, gurgling: "Way I feel it could be my spook." (Copyright, 1936)

Remarkable Remarks

A little honest perspiration will beat any amount of drink in getting a fellow out of the dumps. . . . Sweat and be happy—that's my formula.—Paul Whitman, rotund orchestra leader.

Thought governs the world, and the press is the transmitter and registrar of thought.—Pope Pius, addressing foreign newspapermen.

"When she comes with the free milk, she don't speak to nobody. . . . Guess they ain't used to taking relief yet."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

[Editor's Note: The Merry-Go-Round will cover the background of the Republican national convention, opening Tuesday in Cleveland. Following is the first article written from the scene of the political big show.]

CLEVELAND, June 8.—Obviously it would be foolhardy to attempt to predict how many ballots it will take to nominate or defeat Governor Landon as presidential standard-bearer of the Republican party.

He is far out in front, and it will take a lot to block him. But there are two spots to keep your eye on as the Grand Old Party gathers here to select the man it hopes will "Stop Roosevelt."

One is the spot occupied by Herbert Hoover, ex-President of the United States and titular head of the Republican party. The other is the spot occupied by Senator William Edgar Borah, most powerful and picturesque campaigner the party possesses.

These two have only one thing in common—opposition to the chief aspirant of the party, Alf Landon of Kansas. They resent Landon almost as much as they resent each other—which is considerable.

And the "big question in the minds of many G.O.P. strategists is whether these two can be prevented from exploding at each other and at Landon."

HOOPER'S SPEECH The particular source of their worry is the speech the ex-President is scheduled to make from the convention rostrum. Originally it was understood that Hoover would not go to Cleveland and that his picture would not decorate the convention hall. He was not a candidate.

United, by a surprise maneuver, Old General put him down for a speech. Caught unaware, the Landon managers swallowed hard, hastily issued an approving statement.

But it fooled no one. It was an open secret that they secretly opposed giving Hoover any opportunity to loose his pent-up resentment. To them it seemed like playing with matches in a powder house.

For when he addresses the Republican delegates herein assembled, Mr. Hoover, as head of the party, will have a heaven-sent opportunity to counsel them on the sort of candidate they should select and without even mentioning Landon's name, he can, if he so desires, make an indirect but extremely effective attack against the man who at present is so far out in front as Republican nominee.

This has been done before, notably by Bryan at the famous Baltimore convention in 1912. With the nomination almost in the hands of Champ Clark, Bryan's oratory turned the tide and enabled Woodrow Wilson to win.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

JUNE 8, 1911

Former President Theodore Roosevelt will not be a candidate in 1912, he said today, but will unqualifiedly endorse the candidacy of President Taft.

The household economics class of Ebbeh held its annual picnic at Balboa yesterday, the ladies taking the 9:15 car for the beach. Those enjoying the outing were Mesdames B. E. Turner, W. L. Grubb, Russell Scott, M. A. Patton, C. G. Strock, Palmer, E. B. Burns, W. L. Deimling, Fred Parsons, J. P. Hatzfeld, Misses Wakeham, Ava Wells, and Thelma Patton.

Harry Covington, one of the June graduating class at the high school, entertained a number of his friends at a 7 o'clock dinner last night at his home on West First street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fipps returned yesterday from a trip by wagon to Warner's Hot Springs, San Diego, and old Mexico, where they got a good view of the rebels. Mr. Fipps was not greatly improved by the trip.

When You Meet People, Getting Acquainted Is Enjoyable

MEET a stranger today. We had heard of him but had not seen him before. Drove out to his country home for no purpose other than to shake his hand, and get acquainted with him. We had nothing to ask, nothing to sell, absolutely no business of any kind to transact. Found him working in his garage. He was ready to pause in his work to greet a stranger and pass the time of day. Affable, neighborly, the very spirit of courtesy. A few minutes of conversation and then we were on our way.

Searching our own thoughts we know how one feels when a stranger approaches. He comes for assistance of some sort. He is on an errand and wants to use us for his own purpose. Maybe he wants information about this or that, or to establish contact through us with Mr. Thus and So. He assumes more or less falsely, that we have influence of some kind or other, and tries to swing it to some personal end. Or, he has some commercial motive in mind, buying and selling occupying such large portions of human time and effort. Always there is a defensive barrier thrown up immediately, to see what this stranger intends to do. We are reminded of the modern perversion of the Golden Rule—"Do the other fellow better than he can do you!"

What Other Editors Say

PAUPERISM DE LUXE

(Washington Daily News) When 19 power companies tell the courts that ruin is staring them in the face because of New Deal policies the following will not be among the evidence submitted. But it ought to be.

It is from an advertisement inserted in one of the east's greatest newspapers by The Financial World, investment weekly. "In one month the utility stock average has advanced 10 per cent," says the advertisement. "Industrials in the meantime have gained only 6 per cent. Some utility issues are up as much as 30 per cent. Is a bull market in utility securities starting?" If this be ruin . . . !

FIRE FROM ON HIGH

(Redlands Daily Facts) An airplane flare started a fire in the local mountains the other day, thus opening up another interesting problem for the forestry department. Officials are stopping cars as they enter the national forest by way of the highways and warning occupants that smoking en route will not be permitted. But, what are they going to do about the fellow several thousand feet up who carelessly lets drop a lighted flare, or other firebrand? It looks as if some other kind of patrol will be necessary to augment that on the ground.

A WALKATHON

(Fullerton News Tribune) Al Smith's famous Liberty league speech was noted for his threat to "take a walk."

Senator Borah's Cleveland address carried the same sort of hint.

If Al and Bill should hire a hall and make it a walkathon they might play to record attendance.

"IMAGINARY"

(Garden Grove News) H. L. Mencken, the entertaining if not accurate writer, says that the depression in this country "was largely imaginary."

It is interesting news to most readers to hear one citizen whose income and habits were unaffected by the difficulties which most of us imagine the country had in the past few years.

A Viewpoint

(Lee Shipley in Los Angeles Times) W. R. Humphries has returned to Southern California after covering 17,500 miles of America by trailer. "Hump" is a little fearful that California is going to cut itself off from a great deal of profitable tourist traffic if it discourages trailer visitors.

He showed me pictures of one camp in Florida where the city provides electricity and conveniences for 1200 trailers. Several Florida cities have such camps, he says, and Washington, D. C., has one. "Railroads and hotels are somewhat alarmed," says "Hump," but nothing can stop the trailers. Eighty concerns in Southern California are making trailers, and some of the big automobile people are certain to go into the game soon. A million trailer parties, spending an average of at least $10 a day, soon will be on the road."

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Francois Lefebvre, a famous French marshal of the Eighteenth century arose from the ranks to a position of riches. One day in his later years he met a companion of his childhood, who spoke of his present position as the marshal when he found how rich he was. The old soldier finally said: "Well, now you shall have all my wealth, but at cost price. We will go down into the garden; I will fire at you 60 times and then, if you are not killed, everything will be yours."

And then there was the fellow who came downtown to shop early Saturday, May 30, which happened to be Memorial day, found parking facilities without any difficulty, and the stores closed.

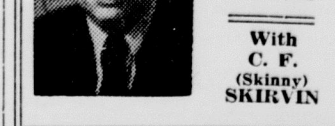

Swinging doors, invented as an expediency, oftentimes proved to be an impediment, but it is not the fault of the doors. One of them is intended for ingress if you follow the long established rule of keeping to the right, and the other is for exit, but when you want to be gallant and hold the door open for the party following you then you build up a congestion and the door is idle. And it is astonishing how few people know which door to use. Talk about comin' in out of the rain!

Say, if you want to bring me a little dirt bring the details with it. For the past few days I've been told about this and that happening, but you can't get into court without evidence. So, unless you have the facts, leave me off your calling list.

Met parishioner coming from the morning service and he said his minister had discovered something new under the sully that he praised his congregation for the continued faith in matters spiritual, and for their loyalty as a congregation. The parishioner said he had been going to church for many years, and was hopeful some day that he could attend one service when the sermon was a praise instead of a criticism. He said he thought the average church member needed a few prods now and then, and maybe oftener, but he also felt they were entitled to a lot of credit. So he was happy about the sermon, and confided that he was going back again. Someone remarked one time about there being so much good in the worst of us that consistency got a jolt when it launched a blanket criticism.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Two thousand Boy Scouts fraternized last week at Irvine park. They called the gathering Camporal. It would have been a good meeting no matter under any other name. It was well supervised, and each patrol independently operated. The boys did their own cooking and ate their own cooking, and this lasted for three or four days, which would indicate that the cooking was satisfactory. These two thousand future citizens are getting the foundation of scouting and good citizenship; the art of self-support and an insight into life and manhood which will in future years help hold fast the anchor of national welfare.

The Pomona fair opens Sept. 18, and will close Oct. 5. Besides the horse racing a new part-mutual plant has been replaced by a new and up-to-the-minute set of buildings and equipment. My recollection is the Pomona fair sort of absorbed the Orange county exhibition, so guess Orange county will have to go to Pomona. It went to Santa Anita in large bunches.

The lone white rock bottle so conspicuously displayed in front of one of the down-town better places, disappeared when the "boss" decided that it was reflective advertising. And there was another reason. The bottle was empty.

Life would seem more natural to me if I could occasionally meet E. S. Gilbert and Clyde Walker downtown. They have been out of commission for several months. After you have become accustomed to meeting your friends, and then through some physical disability they are temporarily removed from the regular daily turnover, you miss them. My hand is ready to welcome them again into the normal daily routine.

Well, the Republican national convention opens tomorrow in Cleveland. I'm not going to worry about it. We sent Judge Williams and Nels Edwards to do that for us.

A. J. Crookshank encourages young people in an interview appearing in a recent edition of El Don. It was 50 years ago since the family decided to move to Santa Ana from Central City, Iowa, so A. J. fitted into the golden jubilee celebration hundred per cent. Under a half century of observation he has seen many young men launch their business career. He says the selection of a profession depends upon the individual's abilities.

Fritz Kreisler, the great virtuoso, realizing the obligation of a God-given talent, returns most of the proceeds from his concerts to human benevolences. It is said he does not even have a home of his own. How different from those multi-millionaires whose energy and ambition is to add more millions to their already over-burdened capital. The comparison recalls the warning that earthly profits are valueless when applied to the welfare of the soul.
